SC PA fish, actually from a fairly popular limestoner. I am sure there are people on this board that fish this very spot.

I fish a ton of western PA and SC PA streams and really that is it. I take the time to learn the ones I fish intimately. Other than a trip or 2 to the Lake Ontario tribs each year, the rest is on the local stuff within an hour of home. (My numbers DO NOT count LO trib fish, as that is a whole other ball game. 30+" not that big of deal up there)

Fish was caught in 2010.

I have caught one 29" each year since (2011, 2012, 2013) but haven't cracked the 30 again.

Thanks to some of the other members that pm'ed me too.

Heard some impressive stories and there is quite a few a guys out there nailing the big 20"+ browns., and doing it with regularity.
