

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : First Brookie

Re: First Brookie

Author: : mikesl

Date: : 2013/11/21 10:50:22

URL:

I think the addiction may be taking hold....

Since I started out fishing smaller streams anyway, I had my 7'6 3wt with me.... but actually found it easier to use my 11' tankara rod to guide nymphs through the small pools between rocks - but lack of line length control in tenkara is really just silly. Wondering if this 9'6" 3-wt that is on sale for $120 would be a best of both worlds for this kind of situation...

<http://www.cabelas.com/product/Cabelas-CZN-Series-Rods/711817.uts>