It took me a long time to get around to Slate and Cedar. I was cautioned by Tom at Slate Run Tackle, that the fish could be tough. But I did OK when the conditions were favorable. Not great, but a few nice ones up to maybe 18". But this was in maybe 2000-2001, so clearly not the good old days. I love that country. I love the fact that the mountains and streams are all around you up there, for miles and miles.

I have to pick your brain about the fishing in Alaska... I have been there twice and need to get back there as well.
