The linked article mentions the ban in New Zealand and that several states discussed the possibility of outlawing felt soled wading equipment (ban). The TU approach would presumably allow you to wear out your current felt soles but the intent is to "ban" the sale of felt waders after 2010.

OK, I'll give you the N.Z. one but stating that some states have "reportedly discussed" banning them is almost as solid as PA getting tax relief from casino gambling... 🤔
