Nice story and my nephew both "get it". It's as much the experience as it is the catching. I still remember the first time I went. I broke my fly off on the first on second cast but never knew it. I was just thrilled standing in white deer creek with borrowed waders and whipping the line around. I was hooked immediately.

Got back to your fist spot and I'll bet it's as sweet as the first trip. I should stop at white deer one of these days.
