

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : Tying my own steelhead leader.

Re: Tying my own steelhead leader.

Author: : PennKev

Date: : 2013/12/2 17:01:14

URL:

Check out Pline fluorocarbon spinning/casting line. Get the basic 100% fluoro version. Works like a charm and for 15 bucks you get a ginourmous spool. Picked up on this line after spending a week in MT. This was all the guides were using. Bought a few different sizes as soon as I got back. It is as good as any of the specially packaged tippet materials and extremely economical.

Kev

P.s. to better answer your question, I've been running a 25lb 4ft mono but then loop to loop a long pline tip of 8lb test to my weight, then 6lb pline to the flies. Works great!