Brown delivered the Confluence today. There really isn't anything detailed in any description I was able to find anywhere. I had to buy one to really see one. I'm going to get a bunch of pictures up soon. I tried it on as soon as I walked in from work.

To put it into perspective, I'm 5'5", 130 lbs. The chest pack adjusts down small enough to fit me with just a t-shirt on. I read the shoulder straps may be too far apart for a smaller guy. I don't agree. They fit me just fine. The pack shortens to the point that my stuff won't get wet when I'm waist deep.

I'm going to get a bunch of pictures up soon. I'm just glad I like it. We'll see how it fishes.
