Hey,

I've found that being a self taught caster is all about teaching ourselves the mistakes first!!!!!!!!!!

Anyways, a good way to find out what these mistakes are is to have a buddy video you while your using a variety of casts, then critique them together, you both learn and try to fix the problems.

Save the tape and do it again in awhile- maybe a week, or longer, as you keep checking back, you see yourself improving and build confidence, now your not afraid of hanging up in that tree 18" above the water, and get your cast to the trout.

Nothing is better than spending a little hard earned cash on a couple hours with a good instructor either.

Good fishin,

Scott
