

---

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : Did I do the right or wrong thing Re: conservation

Re: Did I do the right or wrong thing Re: conservation

Author: : ebroesicke

Date: : 2013/12/6 18:29:22

URL:

probably not an over reaction, but you might find that the developer was within their approved plan to do what they did. It happens all the time because concerned citizens don't have the time or resources to attend all planning and council meetings when these things get approved. Also, developers often do more damage than they are supposed to, 'cause they figure no one will notice and it's easier to ask forgiveness anyway. At the least maybe you have helped stop any further damage. good luck.