Fishing upstream is usually best since the trout are facing upstream.

Don't silhouette yourself against the sky - use the cover on the bank to break up your silhouette

Kneel or crouch to stay low thus less visible to the trout

Wear drab / earth tone colored clothing - avoid wearing bright colors

Try not to wade the middle of the stream, rather stay on or near the bank

Stay back further behind the trout and cast up to them

Try not to cast over the fish - cast at an angle or curve cast

Fly selection is not a big deal. If you follow the above, you should be able to catch some trout on some smaller pheasant tails, hares ears and zebra midges.
