Best Winter SWPA streams

SO I had some time today and like a moron instead of gearing up and heading out to fish I did yard work and taking down lights etc. I live in Washington PA so my question is what are the best winter streams in SWPA. I would guess the Yough has to be on there but that river eats me up...Big water (i know...break it down into small streams inside the big water) but that just hasn't produced for me.

I normally would run to either Neshannock or Dunbar. Maybe the better investment in time would be to run to Yellow in Bedford.

Thoughts everyone?
