Glad you enjoyed it. Like you said, there are so many ultra-serious books on the market out there. I think they sometimes miss the point why we fish. In my case, fly fishing with my Dad, whom I worked with in our machine shop, was about getting away for a couple hours and not think about work. As soon as we got in the truck, you never mentioned work, conversation was mainly about where we were going to fish, the scenery, the next gun show to go to etc... Glad you liked it rrt and a happy healthy New Year to you. Matt
