David,

I'm not completely sold on the giant stuff. I rowed for DaveS one morning and he tossed 5" articulated stuff. He landed 4-5 fish 20-23".....including a follow from a fish in the 26"+ class. I've also been part of 2 consecutive days (nearly 15 river miles) "junk" hurling without a single follow.

Unless the stars are aligned, it seems you get all or nothing. I'm thinking about downsizing to a more traditional sized streamer. We'll do a little of each and see which produces better.
