

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Once again a wild BT population blossoms on a stocked trout stream

Re: Once again a wild BT population blossoms on a stocked trout stream

Author: : Fishidiot

Date: : 2014/1/4 23:17:26

URL:

It seems to me that much of the landscape in central PA - this is esp true on the CV limestoners - is more forested and thus a bit more shaded than 30 yrs ago. I think there's also better control of storm water in many communities around here as well. Perhaps these factors - they're so gradual they often go unnoticed - may be playing a role in improved water temps across central PA, and maybe this stream in particular.