

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Once again a wild BT population blossoms on a stocked trout stream

Re: Once again a wild BT population blossoms on a stocked trout stream

Author: : troutbert

Date: : 2014/1/5 9:51:49

URL:

I would not assume that government regulations or actions had anything to do with it.

We don't know what happened there. That information has not been stated.

It may simply be that the stream used to be "cow bombed" from severe over-grazing by dairy cows. And now the land use/ownership has changed and there are no longer cows grazing there. That can completely transform a stream, and pretty quickly.