like any other new stream you need to figure it out. its really not that the fish are spooky it they don't hold in every part in the stream. you find a fishy spot and fish it. try to keep your shadow down. I stand in that water in most of the river. just pick a spot and fish it for fifteen minutes. small stuff as stated above nothing over an 18. zebras are you best friend now and basically all year round there. the fish are small there. like anything above 12 inches is a good fish.

if you every want t hit it together shoot me a PM. I know the place like the back of my hand. its not big and its easy to figure out just takes a few time to find some good water.
