Never gone below a 3X tippet maybe I should try that on the 5wt. Never tried a leader below 7' either. I usually use a 7' foot furled thread leader with about 2 to 3 feet of 3X tippet. I have noticed less flailing around with the clousers when I fish a shorter length of tippet. I shall now try a 5' furled leader and 2 to 3 ft of 1X or 2X tippet. Thanks for all the suggestions. I seem to be buying fly rods at an alarming pace but I think a 6wt may be in order as well. I'm gonna have to make another set of rod racks for the basement.
