Thanks guys... I have drifted many times in a 3 man creek craft and am very comfortable with that boat but its time for my own... I have a buddy that's willing to split with me an we cannot decide between 2/3 man... $ definitely an issue... As for a one man rig I just never knew if it would work. We've fished clarion river mostly which is small water but I know we're looking to hit some bigger water too in pa... We streamer fish primarily but will stop an nymph / dry's etc... I just figured a one man rig would be real hard to navigate an fish... We've been looking for used stuff but it goes like hot cakes on line. Thanks for the input guys.
