

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Donegal Creek - 'red barn' parking issue

Re: Donegal Creek - 'red barn' parking issue

Author: : caveman

Date: : 2014/1/26 11:26:51

URL:

I usually park at 772 and walk down stream. One thing that I noticed, and concerned me, was the fence below the dairy farm just downstream from the beginning of the FFO area, has been removed, on the side of the creek nearest the barns. It was not washed away, but removed, posts pulled and all. There are empty holes in the ground. Now it may be there are no cows there anymore with plans to not be in the future. The milking barn seems empty. But it concerned me. If the cows are still there or will be pastured there they will have free access to the stream and banks. Not good!!

The access to the stream at the bottom of the FFO area off 441 has been this way for over a year now. I actually like that section of the stream and generally had some pretty good success there. But this was also when it was stocked.

Loss of the horse barn parking is not good either. I hope there can be some kind of deal worked out. If the guys goats are going to have access to peoples cars then they are not being penned properly.