Fishman12992 - so odds are that if the weather continues like this, there may be no fly fishing for me (or anyone) in march. Ice fishing is a no go for this guy.

Thanks for all the advice everyone. I found a relatively cheap set up from L.L. Bean that I might go with. Its a 9' 7weight. Figure it'll treat me alright for bass on the Susquehanna (a half mile from my place) this summer, as well as the steelies. Might buy my friends old 8weight as a back up too.

Again thank you all. Very grateful for all the help
