I'm proud to announce that Cumberland Valley Trout Unlimited has selected Dave Kile for the 2014 Charles Fox Rising Trout Award. This is an award given at our annual banquet to a person in the fly fishing community that has advanced the sport of FFing, esp in PA. This is a prestigious award that was established in the early 1990s - Charlie Fox was the first recipient. Traditionally this award has gone to published authors in conventional print media - Landis, Kreh, Schweibert, Becks, Harvey, Clouser, Meck, etc - who have written popular books or articles.

CVTU felt that, with the growth of internet blogging/writing and the affinity younger anglers have for online participation in the sport... that for a new change we should consider a blogger or someone from new media.

Who could be better than Dave Kile? 😊

If you'd like to learn more about this award, feel free to hit the CVTU website and click on "CVTU Awards."

Dave will receive the award at CVTU's annual fundraising banquet, The Limestoner, next month. If you're interested in attending or supporting the Limestoner (raffle donations are still welcome), check the CVTU website at the same link above for more info, or shoot me a PM.

So, congrats and thanks to Dave for establishing this online community and making Paflyfish our favorite place out of the water!
