

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Some Tying Questions to Get Me Started ...

Re: Some Tying Questions to Get Me Started ...

Author: : MD_Gene

Date: : 2014/3/2 21:09:22

URL:

I agree with a lot of what was said on the subject but disagree with a portion of what Brookie Chaser said.

in part..."You can never have enough fly tying materials. I always find a new pattern or new style and have to buy different supplies."

I am responding a little tongue in cheek but "I HAVE TOO MUCH MATERIAL". I have duplicates of new packages of dubbing material for example. I guess it's easier to buy some stuff then to try and find it in a sea of bins/drawers. But, it seems you "always need new stuff".

I think it would be a great idea if we could all peruse each others "excess capacity" materials and trade it for the NEW stuff we need to tie that new pattern.