

---

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Dry fly wings

Re: Dry fly wings

Author: : mattofcarlisle

Date: : 2014/3/3 10:45:46

URL:

If you tie your wings back, just wrap several turns of hackle behind & in front of the wing & call it a thorax style dry:)

I bought a gallon sized bag of lemon wood duck from Russ Mowery (Mowrey's Fly Box, Latrobe, PA) about 30 years ago. I paid $4.50 for it and still have most of it left.

GC - I "see" what you mean. Now that I'm 41, I like wings so I can see the fly on the water, though I rarely fish a Catskill-type dry anymore.

Matt