I've gotta start tying some of these they all look great. When John(dc410) sent me his and I fished them that got me buying the heads, looking at these ties has really got me wanting to get started on them. (especially the articulated ones, never tied them before. Nymphs yes but not streamers.)Just waiting for the hooks to hit the mail box, there are so many different ties I want to do and lately I've got so many it feels like I'll never get em done. Of course it doesn't help that I jump from one to another before I get the other amount done. No control at the bench I guess. 😊
