

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Signs of Spring

Re: Signs of Spring

Author: : Tups

Date: : 2014/3/6 12:56:53

URL:

I flushed a pair of woodcock last week in northern Delaware. The male was actually strutting with his tail fanned before he walked off at my approach.

A friend of mine was rabbit hunting in central Delaware the last Saturday in February and flushed a couple dozen woodcock that day, all on one farm. Their migration has clearly begun.

Very soon I should begin seeing small flocks of snipe in central Delaware, if they aren't here already.