

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : strike indicators

Re: strike indicators

Author: : Heritage-Angler

Date: : 2008/10/24 18:29:24

URL:

Balloon indicators work great when long distance nymphing is necessary. I prefer no indicator at all, but when I do feel the need, the balloons work great. Just keep them as small as possible. Since the really small ones (like marble size) have such little air in them, they are pretty tough. I have had a pretty large trout eat one and pop the balloon, but it stayed in one piece. For some reason, trout really like to hit the orange ones. Hmmmm. Inflateable flies.....

<http://www.itinerantangler.com/podcasts/video/>