NM is one of the few states I haven't been too, but there is trout fishing there in the mountains. Some Native American tribes control access on some of the streams, but from what I know it's not tough to get, but don't break the law, because Native Americans are a nation and can and will arrest you.

You'll find cutthroats mostly, they are the native trout, rainbows and brown are also in a few tail waters. I'd start searching for NM fisheries dept.

The 2 biggest cities are Santa Fe and Albuquerque. Good luck!
