A graphite rod I actually like!?

Last year my friend, who introduced me to glass and handed down to me many of my glass arsenal, gave me a Sage RPL 590-4 9' 5wt. I hadn't fished with it or casted it until today. I was going through my gear and I decided to see how the thing feels. I threw a reel on and made a few casts. I gotta say, I'm actually impressed. I could feel the rod load, and it had a nice action to it. Not nearly as fast as I expected, given the recent Sage models that I've casted. I could see actually using this rod on some of the bigger waters.
