The 3/4 reel is THE TITS!. It's awesome. I use it exclusively now for small stream fishing. It's landed everything from 6 inch trout to 15 lb carp.

The ITB rod (and Ryan..I know I owe you a formal review..been busy but will get to it).... It's solid. I think I have the 5/6 and I've been fishing alot of glass and small rods so it was stiffer than I was used to but once I got the hang of it, I really started to enjoy it. It's pretty sensitive, is put together nicely, but I'd say it's more of a streamer rod, and for heavy nymphing than for dry flies, although I did pick up a few fish on dries with it. You can't beat it for medium/small streamer fishing though. I also put it to the test and bent the hell out of it with some monster carp and it held up like a champion.
