Not being a technocrat, here are some questions: Can you flop down on a comfy chair in your fly tying room and read these online mags? On a Nook or Kindle? Or, do you have to sit at your computer or squint at a tiny phone screen to read them? Just a dinosaur wondering.

I'm with you! I program computers for a living and prefer to spend more time away from the electrons when possible, and also like something interesting to read while "throne-sitting"... LOL or even while on a fishing or camping trip where there are no 'Internets'...
