Mo, that had more metaphor and simile than a Beastie Boys song. 😄

Never been to erie, but if it's anything like the Salmon River, I'd imagine you get your spot back. I tend to leave a piece of gear or something at the bank in my spot anyway, just so I feel like I'm keeping an anchor in my spot in a way. Usually something cheap, or a bag of chex mix and a bottle of water is enough to deter some people from arguing with you when you return.
