I've never been anywhere for steelhead so I don't know what it's like but I have a question for those that have been. Have you ever seen an actual fight on the stream?

Some a-hole this past weekend was close to getting himself drowned when he ran to the stream to jump in less than a cast below my friend and I. We were fishing at the Benner Springs Hatchery alone. Not one other car until this dude shows up. We were working streamers downstream and out of nowhere come this guy across the stream, stops and proceeds to almost fish the same hole we were. Having read what everyone says about Erie, I would expect something like this to happen there but not on Spring Creek when the entire stream was empty.

It really is amazing the lack of stream etiquette some people have.
