

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : All central PA streams doomed?

Re: All central PA streams doomed?

Author: : Sylvaneous

Date: : 2014/3/23 21:06:12

URL:

Yes, but acid rain is way down from what it was. But there is some belief that the effects of previous rain and current levels are continuing to deplete soils; reducing species diversity and tree regeneration. It was a bigger problem. That problem has not disappeared. It may be why, probably IS why some streams that were good in the past, like the East Hickory watershed and lots of other small creeks in the plateau will not support the bugs and fish they once did.

Syl