I've been wearing a pair of Optic Nerve glasses for over 10 years. I have 5 pairs of them, used for everything from skiing, to riding my motorcycle, to 2 polarized pair for fly fishing (though one pair is huge on my head & I should put them on the swap page).

They're a good company that doesn't advertise like Oakley. I do believe from the several pair friends have had, they they are comparable to Oakley's.
