

---

Subject: : Hatch and Entomology Forum

Topic: : Midges

Midges

Author: : dc410

Date: : 2014/3/24 15:39:31

URL:

Stopped by the Tully on the way home the other afternoon just to watch the green water flow by. There were a lot of black midges coming off the creek and the eddies along the edge of the stream were covered with midge shucks. I did not see any fish rising to them but I got a pretty decent photo of one. It measured about 1/4" from the tip of the antennae to the end of the abdomen. Wishin' for some warmer weather.

Attach file:

 Black Midge 1.jpg (85.21 KB)

