If anyone is interested in exploring one of these streams, check out the headwaters of Swift Run, Union Cty.

At this webpage there's a map. Park at the picnic area shown. Walk upstream past the small tributary shown on the map. Below that trib there are trout.

But once you get upstream from that tributary about 100 feet or so, and start walking up into the roadless headwaters, there are none. And very little in the way of insect life.
