I don't fish very often but maybe a little kick in the a will get me out there. I'm close to both of you and would be willing to show you around or just fish sometime. I'm also a slave to a monitor from 8:30-5/6. Weekends best but won't rule out an hour or two prior to dark for a spinner fall.

I am looking to do a little more smallie fishing this year especially after the success we had late summer 2013. Yeah, I'll sling a spinning rod junk for bass but might also take a fly rod depending on time of year. I think I need a few carp or cats on dries during the hatches this year.
