This, is truth.

Big fish don't just happen, it's a process, or sometimes just dumb luck. Go to your local 'bridge hole' and look for the big breeder palimino they plopped in there, they like velveta, that's dumb luck, imo.. Or put in your time on the local beats that you already know hold big fish, and make your luck thru persistence and experience...or become content being a dry fly preferential fisherperson and be thrilled to catch anything over 14-16" on your 3wt.
