How many of you get nag by your wife to go to church on sunday morning? Well i have an answer to that. Stream side devotionals for the fly fisher. Not only a devotional but a time to talk about whats new and share our passion of fly fishing. To introduce myself my name is ben and i have been fly fishing since i was six. I have a lot of experence on many local streams but also have been mentored as a kid by local great fly fisherman who are to modest when asked if they are good they normally say i have been in it for a while and just know a lot. Which maybe true, however looking to start this up next month. Ill post a date and location when it is closer to time. Thanks and blesdings to all.
