Check the Where to Fish button on the right hand side of your screen and that should give you an idea of where to start. Best bet is to just go explore man. You never know what you might find. You could stumble onto an awesome warm water stream with monster carp, or find a little trickle with awesome butter bellies and brooks. I know it sounds cliché, but it's best to just go. Don't make commitments that day, bring some water, and go explore. The woods and stream sound better than being in Williamsport (downtown, from my experience).
