Greg and I are planning to attend the JAM this year as usual. We plan to respect the social scene at the pavilion this year and not have any gear there, but if there's enough interest we can arrange to bring some things and have a discount for anyone attending the JAM and just have it displayed at our camp site. So if you're interested in any of our gear and want to see it at the JAM just let me know in this thread and if there's enough interest then we'll plan accordingly.

We also plan to put an ITB rod in the raffle, so be sure to get your tickets this year!
