@springer1: I've been meaning to try one of those cheap Eagle claw rods. I really love decent, cheap rods - they allow me to have a really diverse collection of rods without blowing my budget. I could use it for letting my fiance or relatives learn to fly fish. They also seem like they be great for dry flies since they have a slower action. I'd have to decide between the 8' 5/6wt, or the 6'6" 3/4 wt...
