

---

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : first sign of spring...

Re: first sign of spring...

Author: : geebee

Date: : 2014/5/6 14:28:37

URL:

now the water is back down i walked the Brandywine path at lunch today - nature gave us a present in the recent storm, in the form of a 60-80ft breach in the west street dam.

for that length the entire top layer of the dam was washed away, and the remaining brickwork was below the water line today.

i saw several shad run it and a much larger fish in the 24" plus range.

i know there was plans to notch it or remove it. no longer necessary i think.

good news for the shad fishery and striper run - though i don't know i stripers will run through the breach ?