They probably have not started on Penns just yet, it's usually a week or so behind Spring.

For Penns, the Feathered Hook is reporting March Browns in addition to Hendricksons, Red Quills, grannom egg layers, tan caddis, crane flies, blue quills, and quill gordons. They've got a picture of a March Brown up, taken yesterday.

I would guess as we move into the weekend and next week most of those will fade in importance, while March Browns will be ramping up and take the dominate position. Sulfers will start.
