Good job ROLF. You might add that by the time you learn to tie on a size 24 fly on a #7 tippet with a good knot your eyes and fingers have aged to the point you can't see the tippet and have no dexterity left in your fingers.

Personally the rigging, knots etc. are the easiest to learn from a book. Reading water, selecting a fly, and what to do once the first fly doesn't work is the learning that could (for me) be enhanced with some guidance from an experienced fly-fisher.
