

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : lake fishing

Re: lake fishing

Author: : jayL

Date: : 2007/2/21 14:00:41

URL:

Tiny hackled black ants (#18) apparently kill on a trout lake around here.

One day an old timer told me that it's because the ants get in the pellets at the hatchery. The pellets get kicked in and the ants get eaten.

I thought it was tripe, but take it for what you think its worth.

I've also seen sulphurs taken on lakes before during sparse hatches.