

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : newbie question, is there good trout fishing in the northeast of pa in august and September?

newbie question, is there good trout fishing in the northeast of pa in august and September?

Author: : bocast

Date: : 2014/6/22 15:34:19

URL:

Not knowing anything about fishing in northeast pa, I will likely be in that area, ranging as far south as Lehighton, in August. Do the water temps stay good for safe fishing of trout? What waters stay cool so that I wouldn't stress the fish playing them?

I'm not an accomplished fly fisherman, and my cast is often entertaining to onlookers...but I do play fish fairly quickly, catching and releasing gently, always on barbless hooks.

I'll contact some fly shops listed on this site to ask, too.

I'll be happy to target brookies or browns, large or small, or any water that affords me the chance to wet a line and the fish a sporting chance to live and grow larger.