

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : newbie question, is there good trout fishing in the northeast of pa in august and September?

Re: newbie question, is there good trout fishing in the northeast of pa in august and September?

Author: : bocast

Date: : 2014/6/22 20:42:09

URL:

Thank you for the response. I was hoping to target streams based on the answer to that question. I'll go to the streams which are most likely to have fishable temperatures, thermometer at ready. However, since I don't know the area I have no idea which streams stay fishable in those months. I don't mind arranging my travel to target those streams, whichever they may be.

(I was using the region "northeast" as defined in this forum, in the "where to fish" segment. I know I will visit Lehighton, Jim Thorpe and then probably head north and seek the highest streams I can find on maps. As I am from Ohio, I know nothing of the area but am trying to research it.)

Are there waters which usually stay relatively cooler than most?