

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : strike indicators

Re: strike indicators

Author: : chstrcntyfish

Date: : 2008/12/2 15:27:51

URL:

I use the ones from orvis that are foam with a slit in the side and a rubber band running through the center. You just put your leader in the slit and twist the rubberband ends in opposite directions. It stays put, I can take it off and reuse it, it floats good, and I can put it on after I tie my fly on. Alot of times I'll be so excited when I'm rigging up that I'll rig everything up, but forget an indicator and when I was using the froghair ones, this would mean cutting off and starting over.