

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : A Lancaster County Brookie Stream

Re: A Lancaster County Brookie Stream

Author: : OhioOutdoorsman

Date: : 2008/12/10 19:27:01

URL:

If the chubs are taking over a historically brook trout stream, I would day the chubs are a symptom of a greater problem. I'm sure chubs are forage for brook trout, also. Small fish have been eating big fishes eggs and big fish have been eating small for a long time. If the balance has changed, it isn't the fishes fault.